PERSONAL DATA

In order to enable you to register and/or to use the services provided, the departments responsible for operating the website will require you to provide certain personal information, such as your name, address, telephone number and e-mail address.

This personal information will be collected, processed, and used for a specified purpose only, in accordance with the data protection regulations, i.e., the information will only be used for the purpose for which it has been provided by you. Your personal information will not be disclosed to third parties.

The website administrators ask you, in your own interest, to carefully ensure that you do not disclose your username or other personal login details to unauthorised third parties. In this way you can personally help to ensure that the risks of unauthorised use are minimised.

LOG FILES

The website operator will record details of your access to these services in log files, for statistical purposes only. These files will not be linked to your personal details.

DATA SECURITY

The website operator will employ technical and organisational security measures to protect the data you provide from access and misuse by unauthorised persons. These security measures are subject to continuous revision in accordance with both technological developments and current legal requirements.

RIGHT OF WITHDRAWAL

According to Art. 15 GDPR all individuals affected by this measure have the individual right to information concerning the way in which their personal data is processed by those responsible and, according to Art. 16 GDPR, the right to request the person responsible to correct or supplement incorrect personal information.

DATA PROTECTION OFFICER

The data protection officers of the departments responsible for the website will make every effort to ensure compliance with the provisions of the Bundesdatenschutzgesetz (Federal Data Protection Law) and other data protection legislation.
